Such conditions need the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion to reduce the injurious acids and strengthen the organs to expel them.

Scott's Emulsion, with careful diet for one month, often relieves the lame muscles and stiffened joints and subdues the sharp, unbearable pains when other remedies have failed.

CABLE ANOTHER $2000 TO CHINA FLOOD VICTIMS

Total of Honolulu's Relief Fund Still Growing; Other Islands to Be Heard From

An additional sum of $2000 will be cabled tomorrow by the Chinese Christian Union of this city to the flood sufferers in South China. This amount, which will equal $4000 in Hongkong currency, was decided upon yesterday at the Fort street church, with an announcement of receipts for the last few days from Honolulu and different towns of the other islands.

The United Chinese Society, which sent $1000 a few days ago, is making an appeal through the Liberty News to the Chinese of the other islands, and expects to announce a large sum from these sources by tomorrow or Wednesday. Eight committees, headed respectively by Yee Yap, Sau Tong, Lum Yip Yee, Louie Kwin Chun, Yung Kong Tap, Ching Chau, Tom Kwai and Chun Hock Chow, are still at work on subscriptions.

The subscriptions taken up by the Chinese Merchants' Union have not been announced yet, but are known to be of considerable amount.

Tomorrow's remittance will bring the total cabled to China from Honolulu to $12,368, American money.

ARMY NOTES

There is a rumor going the service rounds that the 11th Company, Coast Artillery Corps, is soon to come to Hawaii. There are now nine companies in the Coast Defenses of Oahu, and it is known that three more are to be sent here in the near future, so official advice on the subject would not be unexpected.

The army mine planter Major Samuel Ringgold left Fort Worden, Wash., on August 5, bound for Honolulu via San Francisco. A cable message to this effect has been received at department headquarters, but the message does not state how long a stay will be made at San Francisco, so no definite date of arrival here can be set. It is believed, however, that the planter will reach here between the 20th and 25th of this month.

The 104th Company, stationed at Fort Armstrong, is the mine organization of this department, and the coming of the planter will mean a strenuous period of drills in mine laying and similar work.

The Ringgold is commanded by Capt. Henning F. Colley, C. A. C. The planter was here in 1913, but not last year, the Col. George Armistead being sent here in 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baird and their charming house-guests, Dr. and Mrs. Carleton, Mrs. Stinson and Miss Atherholt, are sailing on the Wilhelm this week. All seem reluctant to depart and while Mr. and Mrs. Baird state that they expect to return early in January, the visitors (all of whom are charmed with the beauty of the islands) declare that they hope to return soon and often. The party will visit in Southern California and see both exhibitions and Lake Tahoe, and plan to go East about October 1.

Light Sidelights on Police Court Scenes

Captain of Detectives McDuffie did a big day's work at Pearl Harbor Saturday afternoon. He went to Watertown to investigate a report that S. Abe, Japanese, had been slashed with a knife held by K. Kimura. McDuffie entered one of the bunk houses at Pearl Harbor in search of a witness and while there he heard dice being rolled in a neighboring canvas bunk house.

So when the detective chief had finished with the cutting case he entered the bunk house from whence the sound of rolling dice came. There he found 10 Japanese squatting on the floor playing "7-11." At sight of McDuffie they scattered in all directions. The chief took up the chase and succeeded in running down three of the "crap shooters." They gave the names of Yonoshige, Semoboko and Sakamoto. In making their escape the Japanese tripped over a small baby and gashed his head. They did not stop to aid the infant but kept right on going south, north, east and west.

When McDuffie had broken up this camp he proceeded to the railroad station at Puuloa where he came across Ralph McDonald, wanted on charges of embezzlement. So he brought him along to keep the dice-rollers company.

Thirteen Chinese were running in all directions through duck ponds and lagoons at Waikiki when Detectives Kellett, Kaine, Akui and Apana discovered them playing the "Melican" game of draw poker. Poker is a faster game than che-fa to those 13, but how 13 men can "sit in" at one game of poker is a mystery which only the evidence can solve. The detectives gave chase and after wading through mud and water for several minutes, the entire bunch was rounded up and taken to police headquarters. In district court today several pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each and the remainder of the 13 forfeited bail in the sum of $10 each.

Nine Japanese played "7-11" in a house on Kukui street between Nuuanu and River streets yesterday and Captain of Detectives McDuffie and a squad of sleuths rounded up the bunch. In police court today they plead guilty and were fined $5 each.

With the aid of an informer, marked money and two lottery tickets, Captain of Detectives McDuffie's men this noon arrested Charles Akoni for assisting and maintaining a che-fa bank in a King street shoe store, and Ah Tong for having a ticket in his possession.

Joe Hao and George Kaeha were "shooting craps" at Queen and South streets last night when Detectives Swift, Kellett, Silva, Apana and Akui appeared on the scene. Hao and Kaeha were taken to jail.

According to the charges filed against him, Alfred Ferreira represented himself along the waterfront to be the chief engineer of the tug Parents at Hilo and he is said to have "hired" several men as officers on the tug at $65 a month. He also is said to have collected $3 and $3.50 from different ones as "medical examination fees." The men were to meet him on Friday night in front of the Mooses hall but Ferreira didn't show up. The latter is said to have promised transportation to Hilo and an "easy" job. Andrew Long, Jack A. Birt, John Gomes and Manuel Romao are some of those who swore to complaints charging Ferreira with gross cheat. Detective Hutton made the arrest.

Shinoska was fighting with another Russian at Camp 2 on Vineyard street Sunday, according to police reports, and A. Nagasaki and another Russian named Glanchoop stepped in as peacemakers.

Nagasaki said Shinoska made a pass at him so Nagasaki said he hit Shinoska, whereupon he said the latter cut his face above the eye with a pocket knife. Officer Sizemore intervened about that time and stopped the fighting.

S. Ito and several other Japanese were attempting to repair an auto truck at Vineyard and Nuuanu streets Saturday night when Ito decided to get a lamp to throw some light on the subject. He did and a gasoline can nearby exploded and now Ito has his hands in bandages.

A Hawaiian staggered across Queen street near Nuuanu yesterday, and as he walked he held a bottle of the stuff "wet" red" to his lips. Just as an auto came along he staggered backward and was struck from the rear, but not badly injured.

James Terry of the Pearl Harbor drydock was beaten near the corner of Hotel and Nuuanu streets Saturday night, and later it was reported to Captain Baker that James P. Curran had done the trick. Terry was taken to Queen's hospital.

M. Anderson was tired and it's a long way home from the Rue de Hotel, so he just lay down on the sidewalk at Queen and River streets for a little nap. Patrolman Palenupua tapped him on the nose of his shoes a little later and Anderson's dreams were continued at Joe Fern's bar.

A meeting of the public utilities commission will be held in the rooms of the commission, Kaulaokani building, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

HOPES TO HAVE EMBEZZLEMENT CASE DROPPED

Ralph McDonald Asks for and is Granted Continuance of Case for One Day

Ralph McDonald, manager of an electric fixture store on Fort street, was arrested at Pearl Harbor Saturday afternoon and today appeared in district court on charges of having embezzled and cheated the Catton-Neill company, owners of the electric shop, of sums ranging over $115.

McDonald's case was continued until tomorrow, at his request. He said he thought he could effect a settlement before that time and have the charges dropped. A friend of McDonald's called at the store early last week and McDonald asked him to wait until his return, which he said would be "in a minute or two." The friend waited nearly two hours and McDonald did not return. He was missing since then until caught by Captain of Detectives McDuffie Saturday.

The specific charges against him are that he embezzled $60 collected for fixtures at the Manhattan cafe and $9 collected from Afong & Company for similar material and work, and withheld $46.50 collected from the Hawaiian Trust Company.

The arrest of McDonald was made in a peculiar way. McDuffie was returning from Pearl Harbor to the city after having investigated a cutting scrape at the drydock, and at the Puuloa railroad station he noticed a man answering McDonald's description sitting on one of the station benches.

"I thought I'd run a bluff on him," said the detective captain, "so I walked up to him and said, 'Come on, Mac.' He jumped up and said: 'Well, here I am, I knew they'd get me.' So I took him along."

EXTRA $100,000 IN PROFITS FOR SHAREHOLDERS

An extra dividend totaling $100,000 was declared last Saturday by the directors of the Hawaiian Agricultural Company.

The dividend, which is an extra disbursement quite aside from the regular August profits, will amount to $5 per share, and will be payable on August 20.

The Hawaiian Agricultural Company is capitalized at $2,000,000, divided into 20,000 shares with a par value of $100 per share. The stock is quoted today at $210 asked. The last sale on the exchange was at $177.50.

The market was fairly active this morning, with sugars shaded down fractionally. Oats 6 per cent changed hands at $90, marking a slight advance for those bonds.

MAY URGE KUHIO TO AID KILAUEA PARK PROJECT

The project of establishing a national park in the Kilauea volcano district, thus preserving its natural beauties and scenic glories, may possibly be taken up again at the next session of Congress by Hawaii's representative, Prince Kuhio.

Some time ago Acting Director A. P. Taylor of the Hawaii Promotion Committee wrote the Department of the Interior, asking it to rummage around in its pigeonholes and waste-baskets and let him know what the present status of the Kilauea National Park plan is.

He received an answer today from H. J. Ayers, acting assistant secretary of the department, informing him that the bill providing for the park's creation, introduced June 14, 1911, by Delegate Kaimanawa, failed to become a law.

"You should bring the matter to the attention of the delegate from Hawaii in Congress," says the letter, "as he is the proper official to take it up and introduce a new bill."

Louis Romallo, aged 55, was drowned when he fell in a cistern in the rear of his home at Lodi, N. J., as he was

In the case of Esther N. Pilipo, et al., against Nettie L. Scott, et al., a motion by the defendant for the settlement of exception No. 1 of the bill of exceptions will be heard in the supreme court next Monday morning.

Dr. J. Malcolm Thompson, formerly physician at the Queen's hospital and later a practicing physician at Lihue, Kauai, died in San Francisco August 5, according to news which has been received in Honolulu. She is survived by a widow and son.

H. M. von Holt received a cablegram yesterday announcing the safe arrival at New York of his sister, Miss von Holt. Miss von Holt was accompanied by the two Glade boys of Honolulu and Miss Aileen Stanley, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Stanley.

According to the reports of his friends, Attorney J. Lightfoot expects to leave for the mainland in the steamer Mongolia tomorrow, providing he can secure passage. It is said that Mr. Lightfoot will visit in California and then go on to Washington, D. C.

Two monkeys and a bear are to be presented to the Honolulu School for Boys as a starter for a zoo. Col. Sam Johnson of the National Guard is bringing them in the steamer Mongolia today. During the past several months Col. Johnson has been in the Malay States on business.

While Mrs. Frank Mendonca and friends were mourning for her late husband, who was found dead in bed at his home at 1946 Pauoa road Saturday morning, the lamp in the parlor of the house, where Mr. Mendonca's body was, started a fire. The corpse was not disturbed while neighbors extinguished the blaze.

Walter Handel Thorley, the noted organist, will give a benefit recital in St. Andrew's cathedral tomorrow evening. Among the well-known selections which he will play are Wagner's "Parsifal," the overture to "William Tell," the "March of the Magi," by Dubois; the "Funeral March" and "Hymn of Seraphs," by Gullmont; his own "Idyll" and the "Minuet" by Bizet.

Because of alleged injuries which he suffered while cutting cane for the plantation, Francisco Lopez, a Spaniard formerly in the employ of the Hawaii Mill and Plantation Company at Kohala, Hawaii, has brought suit against the company for damages in the sum of $5000. The papers in the case were returned to the local circuit court Saturday after service had been made on the defendant company.

CITY IS GETTING FULL VALUE FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction, has an aloha for the building inspector's office. He expressed it this morning while commenting on the various new school buildings which are being erected in Honolulu and vicinity.

"I do not believe that the city and county has ever received as much value for its money as from the new school house in Pauoa," he said. "That building, which is of the 'Kanecho' type, cost less than $500, I understand. It has only one room, but that is large and well ventilated. It also has a lanai and a cloak room."

The "Kanecho" type is not like the bungalow type of school. It is not an open-air structure. Mr. Kinney says this same type of building will be used at Kailua and Kaaawa. This island type is highly satisfactory, he declares.
